HOBBIES & INTERESTS

Dancing isn't just fun. It's a social activity that teaches collaboration skills. It also boosts cognitive performance and helps to unwind.

It doesn't matter what sport you do. Exercising in general develops self-discipline, patience, and helps bounce back from disappointment. Team sports create opportunities to improve leadership, communication, and interpersonal skills, too.

PERSONAL PROJECTS

Authenticity in Food Supply Chain

August-December

We proposed a system that would enable methodical monitoring and tracking solutions, ensure a transparent supply chain, prevent fake food supply, and secure and cashless payments using blockchain. Blockchain technology in the food industry applies in a mindful and holistic manner to check and certify the quality of a product. By building a decentralized public ledger system that could allow for multiple verifications of the authenticity of products, thus helping to restrain the spread of fake ones with features like transparency, decentralization, and immutability
